

Vedran Antoljak
Head of the Special Unit for HITROREZ

Born in 1971, possess international experience in development of private and public sector. In the period of 15 years, Vedran has led different projects of international institutions, regional governments, global and regional corporations, as well as small and medium enterprises. Before he became the Head Special Unit for HITROREZ, Vedran managed own consultant firm specialized for private sector management consulting and public sector projects; he was senior consultant in the leading strategy consulting firm. For a number of years Vedran was working as an private and financial sector specialist for the World Bank and was a Head of International Finance Corporation (IFC) office in Croatia. Antoljak proves knowledge and his skills in regulatory reforms, financial sector, multisectoral projects and structural reforms, privatization, project and investment management, as well as improvement of corporate performance in corporate restructuring, strategy and business planning, business optimization, ICT and general management. Vedran Antoljak is educated in Croatia, Austria, Slovenia and USA. He graduated foreign trade at Economic Institute in Graz, and held the master degree from KF University in Graz, Austria. Vedran was trained at a number of schools such as Harvard Business School and Bled School of Management (IEDC). He was author or coauthor on a number of Croatian and international studies.